The freshman class of 1990 were welcomed into the Mission Family during the second week of September. The week started off on Monday, September 8, with a prayer service in the morning and a senior/freshmen mixer in the afternoon. The seniors and freshmen ate lunch together and thus had an opportunity to know each other better.

On Tuesday, September 9, the sophomores and freshmen had lunch together and the freshmen were presented with survival kits. Each survival kit was wrapped uniquely and came from the hearts of the sophomores.

Wednesday, September 10, the juniors and freshmen had lunch together at Smith Park. The juniors provided the freshmen lunch and as they ate their lunch they got to know each other better at Smith Park.

Thursday, September 11, was a day of rest and preparation for Friday. Friday, September 12, was the senior/freshman day. This year Senior/freshman day was different from the rest. The day had a Western theme and the seniors and freshman dressed western. The day started at 7:30 when the seniors began getting things ready for breakfast. At 8:10 the seniors and freshman met in the auditorium for practice for the assembly, then they went for breakfast in the Parish Center. During this time the sophomores and juniors were in classes. The entire student body met in the auditorium for the assembly where the seniors announced their priviledges. For the remainder of the day, the seniors and freshmen relaxed at Huntington Beach. "I felt welcome week was a success. It drew me closer to three new people and made me realize what a caring family Mission is," said freshman Melinda Mojica.

A SLOW SUCCESS

Friday, September 26: Everyone had just left the auditorium and was excited about the ad drive kickoff assembly. People promised themselves, "I'm going to sell my quota and more!" They would support their class princess until the end; their class would win the ad drive, and the school would surpass their quota. These were immortal thoughts and words in the eyes of many, especially the 1987 Pioneer staff. For them, and for the school, the ad drive would be a whole different story.

The 1986 ad drive started on September 26 with the kick-off assembly. There the students were explained what kind of ads there were to sell and how to sell them. It was also important the students know how vital the ad drive really was, since it accounted for 70% of yearbook production. At this assembly, the class princesses were introduced to the student body and were given the chance to motivate their classes with a speech. Class princesses were senior Christy Flores, junior Monica Romo, sophomore Sandra Paloma, and freshman Jennifer Caubet. Students left the assembly very excited. The yearbook staff anxiously awaited Monday — the first collection day.

"Zilch" was the best word to describe that day as well as that week. Only eight-hundred dollars was collected. Empty collection envelopes were a sign of the times. It was only until the last week that the money really started to come in. That Friday, business managers Myrna Gonzalez, Lydia Martinez, Claudia Moreno, and Emma Nava worked frantically counting the money that had been turned in that day. $5,000 was collected that Friday. Things were looking up.

Saturday evening, October 18: All Club's Dance. An air of "Cinderella" and suspense was in the air. All of a sudden, the music stopped and was exchanged for dimmed lights and soft music. The princesses walked in with their escorts. Yearbook moderator Sister Kathleen Anne then announced the class totals. The freshman class came in fourth with a total of $926. The sophomores were third with $1,455, while the juniors were second with $2,127. However, the seniors reaching 190% of their quota, brought in a whopping $6,698 in ad money. The suspense was over with the crowning of Majestic Christy Flores. The queen and her court danced the queen's dance together and then continued to dance the night away.

The ad drive was not a fairy tale but more like a soap opera. From the fear of having a thirty-page yearbook to the assurance of having a good sized one, all things ended well. This was only due to the efforts and persistence of many people. It started off slowly, but thanks to the support of faculty and students, the 1987 Pioneer became a reality and not just a dream.

THE BAR WARS

In a galaxy far, far away, a war was going on in the little city of San Gabriel. This war wasn't like any other war we've had before. This war involved students from Star Mission and chocolate bars.

The war was created by the head superior chief who insisted that the students sell chocolate bars. The Majestic Panthers, Imperial Lions, Mystique Mustangs, and the Magnifique Stallions were all fighting to control the chocolate bar.

It was a battle; there were bars flying everywhere. Money was crossing over, with a switch here and a sell there. But no clear victory was in sight.

Finally, the war was over. The senior Panthers were victorious in the bar war by 140%. But right behind them were the Lions with 106%, the Mustangs with 98% and the Stallions with 94%. It was a battle to go down in the logs of Mission History — the story of the bar wars.

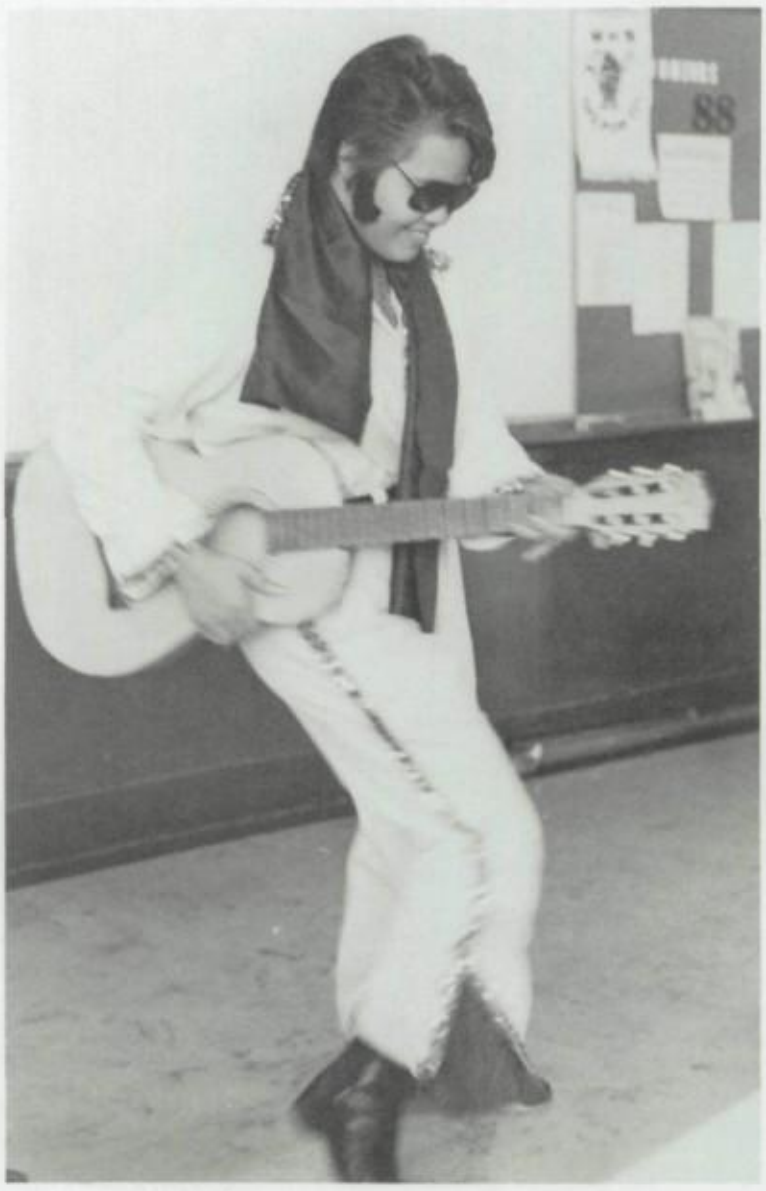
Mission Craze: Fact or Fantasy?

If a stranger had walked down Mission's halls on Friday, October 31, 1986, he or she would have asked several questions. Spotting Elvis and Marilyn Monroe strolling down senior hall, he might have mistakenly thought he had missed the freeway exit and ended up in Hollywood. In junior hall, the stranger might have asked, "Alcatraz . . . San Quentin? Nah." A trip down sophomore hall would have taken the stranger back in time to the Fab Fifties. Rubbing his eyes, he would have stared at girls in saddle shoes and poodle skirts walking beside greasers. Fianlly, he would think things were really getting wierd when a long-haired girl wearing a granny dress walked up to him in freshman hall, handed him a flower, and said, "Peace".



Senior Charmaine Colina shares her rendition of Elvis' "Heartbreak Hotel".

It might have been comforting for that stranger to know he hadn't entered the Twilight Zone, but was instead viewing Mission Daze. Elvis and Marilyn were actually two of the STARSTRUCK SENIORS. Those criminal looking juniors were actually JAILROCK JUNIORS. The poodle skirts and greasers were just a part of the SOCKHOP SOPHS. The freshmen spread love and peace as FLOWER CHILDREN FROSH.

So went Mission Daze. The spirit of fun roamed through the school and participation for this event was high. Everyone seemed to be having a great time and that stranger would have correctly assumed that Mission Daze was a big success.

HERE'S DADDY!

The day was filled with excitement and happiness. What day was that you ask? Well of course it had to be — Father-Daughter day on September 28, 1986. Many Majestics, SImperials, Mystiques and Magnifques attended, along with their handsome, energetic fathers.

Throughout the day, there was volleyball, basketball, softball and soccer games for the athletic. For those not so inclined, there was time to just be lazy and visit with each other. Games were judged for the MVP — Most Valuable Player. Prizes were also given for the best look-alike Tee-shirts and for dad's best look legs.

Mothers were also involved — preparing food for the hungry. Dads and daughters had a choice of hamburgers, hot dogs, chips soda and beer. It was a day not to be missed and many were making plans for a repeat performance in '87.

Freshman Loretta Nava and her sister share daddy's love.

ROUND THEM UP!

On December 6, 1986, the Father-Daughter Dance was a huge success. Dads and Daughters spent the evening tripping the light fantastic.

It was an enjoyable evening for both the fathers and daughters. It was an opportunity to spend some time together simply enjoying each other's company.

Prizes were given to the best dressed according to the theme. The winners were: first place senior Dana Christ, second place junior Melinda Mendoza and third place freshman Maria Stella Cintra do Prado. Winners of the fast dance were: first place freshman Alicia Leon, second place sophomore Monique Reid, and third place freshman Laura Agregano. Slow dance winners were: first place freshman Monica Contreras, second place sophomore Nancy Hernandez and third place Vanna Pecararo.

In the words of an unknown, "A good time was had by all!"

These were caught in the "round them up" escapade.

Just what are they up to?

These lovely couples sure know how to slow dance!

RSVP—Responding To God's Call

In French, RSVP means "repondez s'il vous plait" or please reply. However, for our annual Parish Day celebration on Monday, September 29, RSVP took on an additional meaning — our invitation to respond to God's call to share our talents. Specifically, we were challenged to return to our parishes and share those gifts that God has given us.

Parish Day was somewhat different this year from past celebrations. A special schedule, with periods 1, 2, and 3, was followed in the morning. After lunch, students and faculty gathered in parish groups to greet their parish priests and guests. Following this, everyone gathered in the school auditorium for the celebration of the Eucharist. The Mass was concelebrated by some twenty-five priests. The main celebrant was Father Arnold Gonzalez, CMF, pastor of San Gabriel Mission.

Following the liturgy the students were dismissed and the faculty and guests gathered in the school library for lunch.

Coordination of the day was done by Sister Gloria Marie, campus minister. She was assisted by Mrs. Nancy Crowley and Sister Beatrice. Music for the liturgy was under the expert guidance of Mr. Steve Gunther. Artwork by the Art and Environment group helped to highlight the day.

Parish Day allows the girls to meet their priests and get to know other Pioneers from the same parish. This year's Parish Day challenged us to consider our gifts and talents and to consider just what response we will make.

Hail Mary, Full Of Grace

The Senior class, once again, sponsored the October 7 tradition, the Living Rosary. This Mission event was in celebration of the Feast of the Holy Rosary which was especially important to the sisters here because it was their patronal feast day. They are the Congregation of the Queen of the Holy Rosary.

A Living Rosary was formed by the seniors who were seated in pairs around the entire student body. Senior class president, Chris Mullen, opened the ceremony, explaining that the living Rosary was the first time that the seniors presented flowers to Mary as a class and the Baccalaureate Mass would be the last time. Sister Carolyn then shared about the feast and gave a brief history of the Rosary. As the Living Rosary began, one senior led the student body in prayer while her partner presented Mary with a rose.

Under the direction of Sister Gloria Marie, the ceremony was perfect. With the help of Mr. Gunther and Music Ministry, the student body joined in to sing "My Soul Rejoices in My God". To conclude the ceremony, the roses were presented to Sister Jean Marie, superior of the sisters, to be placed in the convent Chapel.

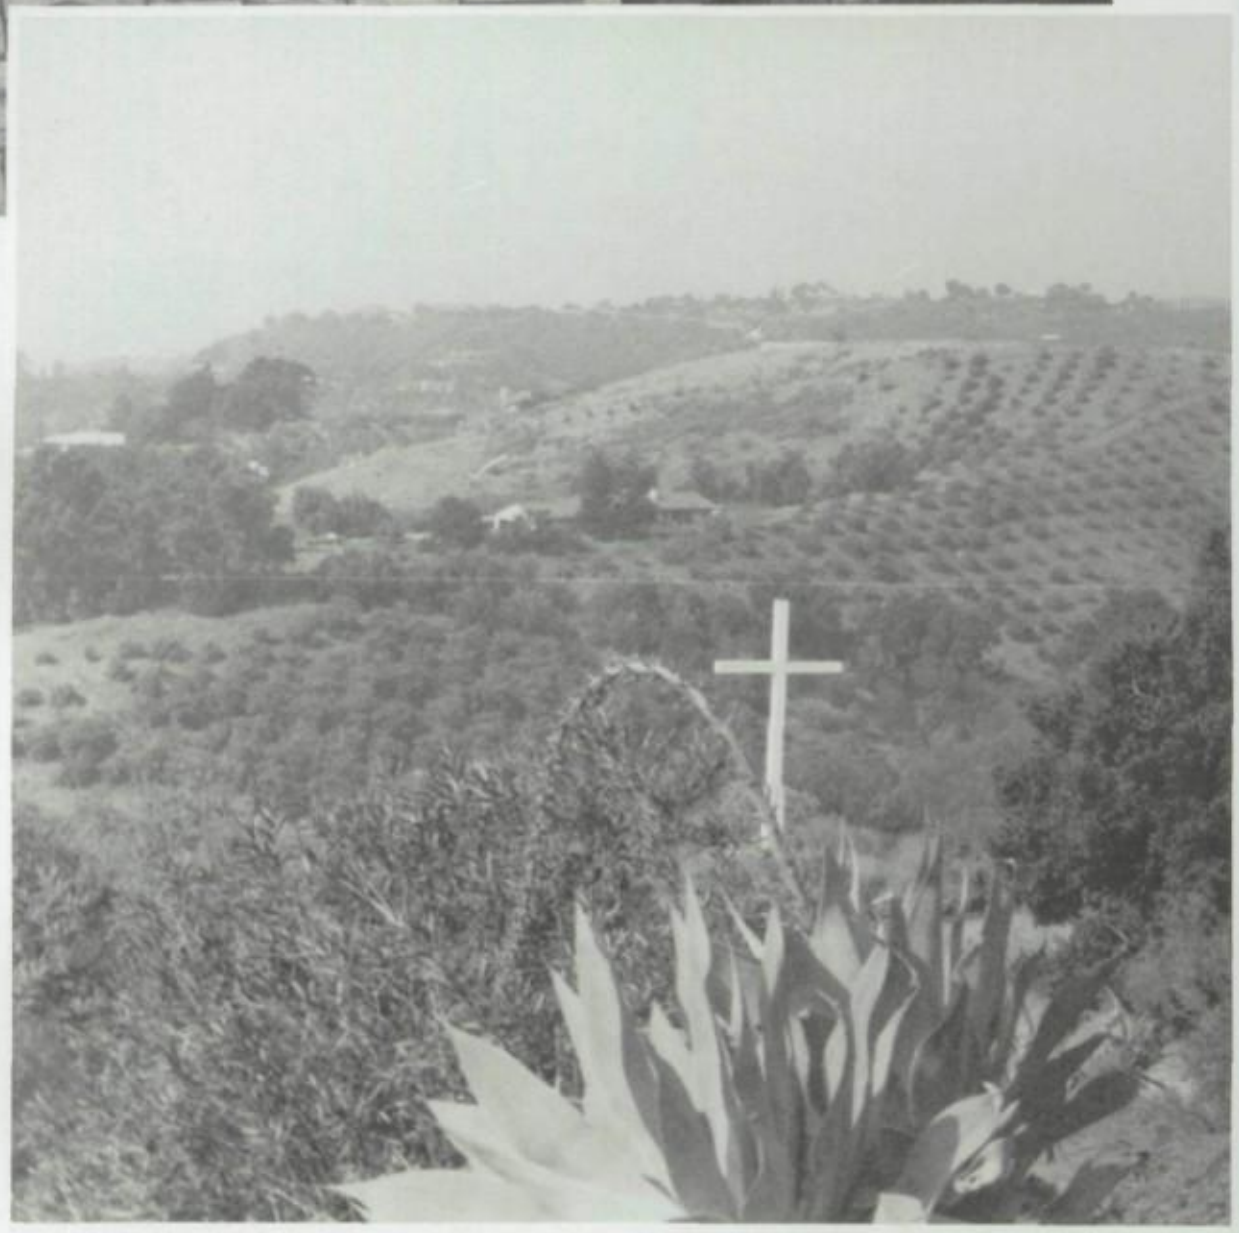
THE RETREAT EXPERIENCE

The smell of the chalk, Sister Carolyn going camera carazy, girls rushing through the halls to get to class. Is this what life at Mission is all about?

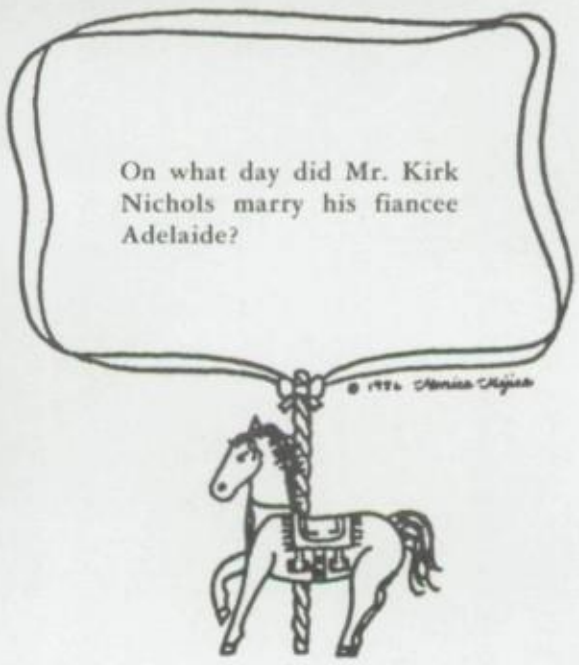
The answer is no. One important piece is missing. Which one? The spiritual piece! The Mission lifestyle is incomplete without this important part. One way this piece fits in is through the annual class retreats. This year, the school "christened" a new retreat system. Instead of classes going on retreats at separate times during the year, two weeks were set aside especially for these events. One-half of each class went in October, while the other half went in January. While one part of the class was on retreat, the other half spent the days listening to speakers on such varied topics broadcasting, drugs, alcohol, depression, and skin care.

The members of the Kairos IXX, XIV, and XV groups composed of seniors, retreat leaders, and faculty treked to Santa Barbar for the spiritual journeys in October, January, and March, while the Imperial Lions spent two days at the Mater Dolorosa Retreat House in Sierra Madre. The sophomores arrived at the St. Joseph Retreat House in Rosemead for their two-day retreat. Freshmen Mangnifiques had a twilight retreat in October and their class retreat in January at the Dominquez Hills Retreat Center.



A vision of peace during the KAIROS and junior retreats.

1. Sophomores Veronica Cagigas, Viridiana Hermosillo, Elva Benitez and Monica Crrillo — the Four Muskateers!
2. Does this look like an excited Ms. Joyce Moore?



When asked what the retreats were aimed at acoomplishing, Campus Ministry team member Mr. Steve Sunther stated, "They were geared to give those on retreat space and time to reflect on their lives and relationships." The retreats seemed to have accomplished this for when freshman Isela Ponce was asked, she responded, "I enjoyed the free time we were given. It gave me the time I needed to think about things and I enjoyed the various activities of that day. I was given a chance to get closer to someone I hardly knew."

Indeed, the retreats gave students a time to reflect on relationships and themselves. Spiritual growth and the steps to maturity were all involved in these retreats. No, Mission life is not just academics, classes, and sports. It is a communal relationship with God and others. This year, through the various retreats, Mission High School accomplished this challenge in a very special way.

Reaching for the stars!

Lights! Cameras! Action! These were all ingredients that contributed to making a successful production. Tryouts for the fall play "Sister, Sister" were held from September 2 - 5. This year's production was a thought-provoking drama in which a family had to adjust to the homecoming of their retarded daughter, after a six-year stay at a mental institution.

The director of the play was Mr. Gene Koester who was assisted by student director, senior Lenore Hernandez. Together they chose the cast for Sister Sister.

Mission students participating in the play were senior Charmaine Colina as Betty Crowley, junior Jennifer Peralta as Sarah Weston, freshman Pamela Yugar as Donna. The role of Laura Crowley was double cast with seniors Eileen Gillen and Christine Mullen. The young gentlemen who participated were Greg Mucino as Jerry and Alex Quesada as Wes Jackson.

Three performances were given over the weekend of November 7, 8, and 9. A matinee for local junior high students was held on Friday afternoon, November 7.

Mr. Koester in his praise of the cast commented, "They were a dream cast. They adjusted well to the situation and they were dedicated to giving the audience an excellent performance. They were the kind of cast that a director prays for."

Preparations for the production began in September and lasted until the night of the performance. Behind the scenes, stage manager, junior Chris Aguba directed the stage crew. Crew members were: freshmen Jing Aquino, Alicia Leon, Sheila Crow; sophomores Germely Oredenez, Loretta Lopez, juniors Terry Yugar, Chris Claisse, Stephanie Rodriguez, Gina Cantanese and senior Christine Bond. These two months were months of learning and growing along with the sharing of talent," stated Christine Bond.

As senior Jeanne Yugar said, "This play was not a burden, but a culmination of both the cast and crew working together towards a common bond — to put on the best performance Mission has ever seen!" They certainly succeeded with "Sister, Sister"!

SILENT NIGHT . . .
. . . HOLY NIGHT!

"Silent Night, holy night. All is calm, all is bright . . ." chorused the senior class carrying candles that bathed the darkened auditorium with light. What was the occasion you might ask? The Christmas assembly! It was held by the seniors on the last day before Christmas vacation.

The seniors started the assembly by processing in and slowly assembling in the front of the auditorium. They sang several Christmas carols and then performed a skit. The Christmas assembly took on completly different kinds of tones, from solemn and reflective to joyous and loud. Then the faculty shared their Christmas gift with the student body. Faculty members exhibited their singing talents with their very own rendition of "The Twelve Days of Christmas" penned by Sister Catherine Marie. Their endeavors were greeted by thunderous applause and cheers from the students. Afterwards, the faculty was presented with a new microwave oven by the senior class officers.

The 1986 Christmas assembly was unique. It portrayed the meaning of Christmas both solemn and reflective, as well as joyful and exciting.

Senior chipmunks Lillian Ortiz, Mandy Torres, and Lisa Terrazas exhibit thier vocal skills.

A White Christmas

Once again, the Crosscurrents staff of Mission High School cordially welcomed its students to the 1986 Snowball, "White Christmas" on December 13. The lights and sounds were provided by Romance.

The highlight of the evening was the coronation of the Snowball queen. Out of the many candidates who raised money for the position of queen, only four were chosen for the court. The finalists for this year were: sophomores Lisa Corona and Lourdes Lopez, junior Lisa Manzo, and senior Annabel Garcia. Annabel Garcia turned in the most money and was crowned queen by last year's queen, senior Stacy Calderon.

The purpose of the dance and the queen contest was to raise money for the publication of the school newspaper. Although this dance was for couples only, many of Mission's student body attended with very handsome escorts.

The Crosscurrents staff was to be congratulated for preparing an unforgettable evening for those who attended a White Christmas.

THE WORST OF TIMES!

The city of New York, gave the Statue of Liberty a big 1986 bash — a Fourth of July festival of song, celebrities and fireworks honoring the great lady's first 100 years.

Deep under Lake Nios in northwestern Cameroon, the earth belched. A bubble of scalding gas rose to the surface and the wind carried it across the land. Within minutes, more than 1700 people were dead, burned by steam and choked by carbon dioxide and toxic gases. (Among the casualities was a large group of cows.)

They call if "crack" on the East Coast and "rock" on the West Coast. Whatever its name, this refined, smokable form of cocaine may be the most addictive narcotic ever sold on the streets of America.

A drought spread throughout the Southeast during 1986. It was the worst dry spell on record. At the peak of the drought, crops wilted from southern Pennsylvania all the way into northern Florida. Even after some rains, many farmers in the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennesse and Virginia were on the brink of ruin.

CLUBS

A Never Ending Ministry

The Campus Ministry room reflects an air of tranquility.

Liturgical dancer, senior Monica Mojica, celebrates prayer through dance.

We are God's co-workers, while you are his cultivation, his building. 1 Cor. 3:9.

As Campus Ministry entered its sixth year, it strived to unite the Mission family by enthusiastically building and strengthening the faith community. Moderator Sister Gloria Marie, with the help of Campus Ministry members, undertook this task.

"Strengthening and deepening our work in each of Campus Ministry's areas and supporting the students' faith development," was Campus Ministry's primary objective according to Sister Gloria Marie. In past years, the emphasis had been on actually building and laying the foundation of Campus Ministry.

Once again, six different groups came together to form Campus Ministry. These groups were LIFE, Music Ministry, Art and Environment, JAM, and Peer Counseling. Students, parents, and representatives of the various organizations joined to form the Campus Ministry Board.

Besides sponsoring communion services, liturgies, and retreats, Campus Ministry held a donut sale in September and the Senior Farewell Dance in the Spring. The money from these two events went to cover expenses from the various groups, to help students unable to pay retreat fees, and other special purchases.

Campus Ministry was an integral part of Mission life. Working together with the faculty and student body, it enriched the liturgies, let the students share their gifts, and lent support to everyone.

Tuning Into Music Ministry

In its third year, Music Ministry was once again a very involved and popular group at Mission.

Under the direction of Mr. Steve Gunther, Music Ministry accomplished many things this year. This included the enhancement of school assemblies, liturgies, and prayer services.

Among other things, Music Ministry took time out of their busy schedule to share their musical gifts at such places as juvenile hall and various convalescent hospitals.

The past year made Mr. Gunther excited about the potential of the group. "Music Ministry has come a long way in the past two years, and I'm looking forward to what will be accomplished this year," stated Mr. Gunther.

The 1986-87 JAM Members

Justice Action at Mission, otherwise known as JAM, had an activity-filled year.

This year, the four and a half year-old JAM worked together with over fifty students and faculty. They concentrated on Prisoners of conscience, world and local hunger, and global and local interests.

Students met every second and fourth Mondays of the month under the direction of Mrs. Diane Williams, moderator and JAM officers: president, senior Cathy Ramirez; vice-president, junior Almae Leal; assistant vice-presidents, sophomores Arcelia Arvizu and Irene Ramirez; publicity, sophomores Ingrid Jefferys and Patricia Trujillo; and secretary, sophomore Cecilia C. Gonzalez.

JAM members and officers worked to increase awareness for the need to work for peace and justice. This goal was accomplished through the writing of letters, responding to the needs of others, participating and running activities such as Human Rights Day, Fast for a World Harvest, Food baskets and two Peace and Justice days.

Justice Action at Mission has brought students and faculty to a better awareness of the world's problems. As senior Cathy Ramirez stated, "JAM members are dedicated to battling injustices in the world and making the world a better place to live."

"What! You're not involved in JAM!" states Freshman Irene Salcido

Membership recruitment began last spring when a meeting was held for all interested Pioneers. During the meeting, a slide show was shown and applications were reviewed, eight girls were chosen. These girls then attended a workshop during the summer.

During the week-long workshop, they learned that everyone is called to minister to others by using their special God-given gifts and talents.

During the year, the Lifers were involved in many different activities. They helped with the Campus Ministry donut sale in the fall and the senior farewell activity in the spring. Money raised from the various activities helped to defray part of the summer expenses incured by the workshop.

Lifers also helped with both the freshman and sophomore retreats. Faculty also received special attention through the Life-Saver program. This program was designed to give the teacher support and a little lift when they needed one.

"The goal the Lifers wished to accomplish this year was to work with the freshmen," remarked Sister Gloria Marie. This was done by guiding the freshmen, helping them feel welcome, and making them feel a part of the Mission family. The Lifers worked extremely hard this year and their presence was felt in many ways throughout the school.

A Work Of Art!

Once again, the Art and Environment Club was involved in not only making posters and signs for Mission liturgies, but also creating an atmosphere of liturgical awareness. Membership was open to all students. "All that was necessary to join was a willingness to draw, work hard, and share ideas," replied Nancy Crowley. The purpose of Art and Environment was to create an atmosphere that reflected our Christian values and liturgical seasons. The members worked very hard this year to decorate the school during the liturgical seasons and other special occasions. They spent many hours creating beautiful posters. Meetings were held on Wednesdays during lunch.

THE POWER BEHIND THE CAROUSEL!

The Parents' Club was one of the most important and vital parts of the Mission Family. It sponsored and organized numerous activities, not only to raise funds, but also to help bring daughterss and parents closer together.

At the helm of the Parents' Club was presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Duran. Sister Carolyn, as school principal, was the moderator. Assisting them were first vice presidents Mr. and Mrs. Dennis O'Meara, second vice presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cintra do Prado, thrid vice presidents Mrs. Gloria Nava, Mrs. Ida Pagone, Mrs. Delia Trujillo, recording secretary Mrs. Marta Lopez, corresponding secretary Mrs. Kathy Cangialosi, treasures, Mr. and Mrs. John Diaz, hospsitality Mrs. LaVerne Guerrero, publicity Mr. and Mrs. Luis Terrazas, and parlimentarians Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Jeffreys.

The main objective of the Parents' Club was raising enough money to keep down the price of tuition. The events which helped in the attaining of this goal were Day-at-the-Races, the Christmas Boutique, Marathon Bingo, a yard sale, the fashion show, and Mexican dinner/silent auction. However, the Parents' Club also sponsored non-fundraisers such as Dad/Daughter Day, Back-to-School night, Dad/Daughter Dance, a Christmas Eucharist, and the Mother/Daughter Breakfast.

With the active participation of many parents and the dedicated leadership of the officers, the Parents' Club was indeed a power behind the Carousel!

Leadership in Action!

At 7:30 on Thursday morning of every week, one could find the Student Council in a meeting working diligently on upcoming student activities.

This year Student Council had new co-moderators Sister Elizabeth and Mr. Frank Laurenzello. Mr. Laurenzello was also Vice-Principal in charge of Student Activities. Both moderators worked carefully with the ASB officers: president Gaby Torres, vice-president Eillen Gillen, secretary Raquel Torres and treasurer Anita Luna to ensure that the year went smoothly and that activities were successful.

On September 20, a workshop was held for the student council. At the workshop, the officers discussed goals for the year, went through Parlimentary Procedures, and listened to various specialized talks. It was a helpful beginning for a great year.

Their self-confidence was evident at the ASB Fall Assembly on October 14. At the assembly, each of the club presidents explained the purpose of their club and presented upcoming activities for the year. The spirit stick was also on the agenda for the assembly and discussion proved to be spirited as various Pioneers shared their feelings.

As ASB treasurer Anita Luna commented, "Being elected as your ASB treasurer was a good opportunity to learn more about student government and gave me a chance to serve and meet the student body on a different level."

Capturing Headline Memories

Dedication and enthusiasm were some of the qualities which were seen in the 1986-1987 Crosscurrents staff. This hard-working team, led by editor Bernadette Almanzan and co-editor Mary Peot, had given much time and effort into making this year's newspaper a very exciting and prosperous school publication.

A very important element of this staff was the journalism class. These students, with the help and guidance of moderator Sister Carolyn, displayed their writing talents in the Crosscurrents. Reporting in a journalistic manner and appreciating the importance of responsibilities were a few goals set by this class. When asked about her own individual goals, Bernadette Almanzan responded by saying that she would like to become more efficient in her writing. "Journalism was a great experience to have and may help me in the future when I hope to major in communications," she commented.

Formerly, the newspaper had been called the Angelus, but 16 years ago the name was changed to Crosscurrents. Not only was the newspaper a good resource for recent information, but also a way of communicating new ideas. "It allowed the students to express their opinions through the editorial page and provided data to the public about the school and its activities," stated Sister Carolyn.

Being on the Crosscurrents staff was often a tedious and time-consuming job for each member. However, each issue of the newspaper gave them not only a feeling of satisfaction but also a sense of pride.

Busy Bodies

At exactly 7:30 every morning, the Pioneer Yearbook staff met and began their work of making the best '87 Pioneer yearbook ever. On the '87 Staff were: Moderator, Sister Kathleen Anne; editor, senior Vanessa Coto; Co-editor, junior Lori Laitinen; business managers, seniors Emma Nava, Myrna Gonzalez and Lydia Martinez; index editor, senior Claudia Moreno; copy editors, juniors Therese Anderson and Terry Yugar; artist, senior Monica Mojica; Page editors, seniors Melissa Marquez and Norma Masse, juniors, Connie Reyes, Cynthia Lomas and Sandy Deming, sophomores, Patty Avila, Veronica Cagigas, Cristina Riegos, and Patricia Trujillo; typists, senior Angie Guzman and sophomore Maria Palacio; Photographers, Teresa Alvarez, Tina Flores, Greselda Salcedo and Evelyn Vega and photography coordinator, Mr. John Blair worked together side by side to bring forth "A Carousel of Memories."

These members of the Pioneer Staff chose to be involved in school by committing all their extra time and effort to producing the 1987 yearbook. Stress and a great deal of hardwork were put into the yearbook. Deadlines had to be met, photographs had to be taken and ideas had to be brought up in order to create a memorable yearbook. But how was all this possible, you might ask? Well, half of it was the hard work of the yearbook staff, but the other half depended on the hard work of the student body in selling ads. How good a yearbook was to be ultimately depended on the income of the Ad Drive held every year in the fall. October was a stressful month not only because of the Ad Drive but also because of two deadlines during the month.

When moderator Sister Kathleen Anne was asked about this year's staff she replied, "This year's staff is very committed. I love working with the staff it's fun!" To the same question, editor Vanessa Coto answered, "There is a lot of difference. Everyone is an individual, but everyone works together. There is a bit of every class involved, so there'll be more input for the yearbook."

All that was left to say was thanks yearbook staff for doing a great job!

Math/Science Club

The 1986-87 Math/Science Club, once again worked hard to create a more positive attitude on the part the students toward math and science. The club was under the direction of moderator Mrs. Debi Blair and officers senior Jennifer Tsai; President; senior Sara Hernandez, vice-president; senior Christine Crow, Treasurer; senior Chinh Nguyen, secretary; and Sophomore Kathy Brown, representative. To reach their goal, the Math/Science Club organized several activities that gave students not only intellectually challenged but also entertainment.

Once a month, the Math/Science Club attended lectures given by guest speakers at Cal Tech. The club also visited the Planitarium and the Museum of Science and Industry. In order to help the Math/Science Club financially, the club sponsored the Math Store. This store provided students with easy access to math supplies. The store carried pens and pencils in addition to calculators and watches.

This past year, the Math/Science Club again assisted the school by giving students the opportunity to receive help in math and science through free tutoring. The club also helped teachers by acting as aids.

When asked why students should join the club moderator, Mrs. Debi Blair replied, "Students should join to receive knowledge, enjoyment, entertainment and a better understanding of Math and Science. Mrs. Blair also added that she wished for better participation of students, especially people who commit themselves and follow through with their commitments.

Recognizing Academic Achievment

Recognizing academic achievement was one of Mission's goals. One way of doing this was through the Honor Society. The Honor Society included the California Scholarship Federation, the National Honor Society, Mission Honor Roll, and Mission Merit.

The officers of the 1986/87 Honor Society were seniors Charmaine Colina, president; Chris Bond, vice-president; Griselda Salcedo, secretary; and moderator Sister Mary Hilary. The purpose of the Honor Society was to recognize academic achievement. This year, 38% of the Juniors and Sophomores and 42% of the Seniors were involved in the Honor Societies.

Senior Chris Bond remarked, "Girls at Mission are really gratified when they see their hard work paying off in membership in the Honor Societies." Moderator Sister Mary Hilary echoed these feelings when she said, "We challenge you to challenge yourself."

During the year, the 1986-1987 Pep Club once again helped to promote spirit not only at games, but also throughout the school and at school activities. A person could attend any game and feel spirit in the air as the enthusiastic pep club showed their spirit.

Under the direction of Ms. Sal Carrasco, the Pep Club with some thirty members practiced every week in order to be ready for upcoming events and games.

The Pep Club contributed to the participation of students and spectators at games by posting signs and wearing their green and white pep club uniforms to remind students of upcoming events. They also contributed to the support of team members by attending games and cheering them on. As JV volleyball player, sophomore Arcelia Arvizu stated, "The Pep Club helped the team and me to feel supported and encouraged.

Shining Brightly: Stars Of Tomorrow

Dramatic art and literature were vividly portrayed by M.H.S.'s very own Drama Club. Mr. Koester, the club's moderator, along with senior Jeanne Yugar, President; junior Jennifer Peralta, vice-president; senior Lenore Hernandez, secretary; and senior Charmaine Colina, treasurer, all strived to create an atmosphere in which the members were able to enhance their talents in acting, singing, and dancing. They also gained a knowledge and appreciation for the arts of directing, lighting, make-up, and set building.

"I feel more positive about this year than I have ever felt in the past because of the leadership qualities of the Drama Club officers, the experience of the cast and stage crew and an overall attitude towards learning about the art and craft of drama by Drama Club members," said Mr. Koester. The Drama Club, as is tradition, hosted a fall play and a spring musical. Additionally, several activities have developed over the five years that this club has existed. A few of these activities included visiting convalescent homes to perform for the elderly, visiting and performing for grammar schools at the primary level, and the end of year awards banquet.

The awards banquet included a production especially for the families of all Drama Club members. Also, awards were presented to Best Actress of the fall play, and spring musical. The evening was high-lighted by the presentation of the KLIC-KLAC, and the KLAC award, which represented excellent and constant service and ability depicted through Drama Club gives me the chance to fulfill some of my dreams and hopes to shape my future", stated Jeanne Yuagar, Drama Club member.

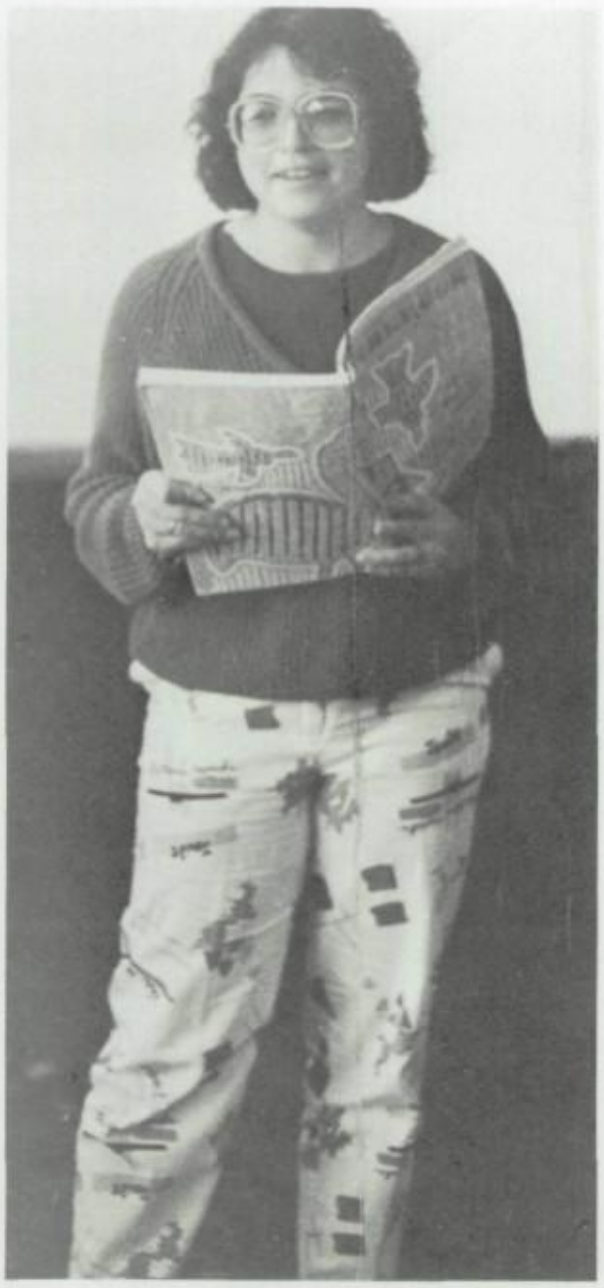
A Ride On The Spanish Carousel



Ms. Jarel shares her knowledge with the students.

Question: If you were interested in the Spanish language and culture, what club would you have joined? Answer: The Spanish Club of course.

Through the watchful eyes of their moderator Ms. Olga Jarel and officers president, senior Lillian Ramirez; vice-president, senior Lisa Terrazas; secretary, junior Julie Sanchez; treasurer, senior Maria Gonzalez, the Spanish Club worked to enrich the student's knowledge of other traditions by hosting culturally oriented activities at each meeting.

The Spanish Club involved some 51 girls in all four grades.

During the year, the club sponsored various activities including a joint fundraising dance with other clubs and classes on October 18. Profits went toward field trips the club was planning.

There was interest and enthusiasm in learning about the Spanish culture. Through involvement in the club, the members were able to enhance their growing knowledge of the language.

On To Victory

"Run! Spike! Dive! Hit! CHEER!!! The Girls's Athletic Association is here!" At Mission High, the G.A.A. Club was a strong and enthusiastic group during the 1986-87 school year. Through the supervision of Miss Joan Inouye along with the assistance of her officers: President, senior Barbara Alvarez; vice-president, junior Marlene Sanchez; secretary, junior Pilar Salazar; and treasurer, junior Patty Montes De Oca the year was a very positive and active one.

G.A.A. members consisted of over one hundred members which included volleyball, basketball, softball, track, swimming, and crosscountry team members. Pep squad and pep club members also played a very important part of G.A.A. Their enthusiastic cheering at games was very important.

Through the year, G.A.A. held many fundraisers such as the selling of M.H.S. towels before Christmas and the Jog-a-Thon in the spring. The money raised went towards the purchase of uniforms, athletic equipment, awards, and the rental of facilities.

When Barbara Alvarez was asked what her goal for the organization was she replied, "To obtain a successful year in the form of having good participation in sports and all of G.A.A.'s sponsored activities." The coaches were also an important part of Mission. This year's coaches were: Miss Joan Inouye, Mr. Kirk Nichols, Sr. Joanna, and Mrs. Debie Blair.

Due to the active participation of both students and teachers, G.A.A. once again brought spirit and unity to the girls of Mission.

For many, G.A.A. was an important part of Mission life and memories. G.A.A. allowed members to participate in sports and to share their enthusiasm with each other and the school.

What is the name of the club you would join if your were thinking of a prospective career in business? FBLA, of course! FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) ran in the new school year with their annual donut fundraiser. This fundraiser, along with their yearly Sham-O-Gram in March, helped to finance exciting activities throughout the year. One of these activities was to attend the Southern section of the Fall Business conference.

Mrs. Ernestine Campbell and Ms. Ethel Malveaux moderated this upward moving club. The FBLA officers for the year were president, senior Cindy Espino; vice president, senior Therese Rudolph,treasurer, senior Denise Duran, and secretary Mandi Torres. Together the officers and moderators worked hard to ensure that the year would be active, challenging, and rewarding.

FBLA provides an excellent opportunity for those Pioneers who want to learn more about the business world and its many opportunities.

The Vietnam Memorial reminds visitors of the thousands who gave their lives in service of their country.

Learning about the government that runs our country is usually limited to books. Fortunately through a program called Presidential Classroom, set up in 1968 to give high school seniors the chance to see their government in action, this learning takes on a vital, challenging, and rewarding hands on experience.

Mr. Frank Laurenzello, moderator of Presidential Classroom at Mission, sent eight students to Washington. Two went each week beginning in February. The seniors attending were Barbara Alvarez, Vanessa Coto, Anita Luna, Christine Mullen, Gaby Torres, Magdalena Prado, Raquel Toores, and Terri Montes de Oca. Unfortunately, Barbara was hurt in an automobile accident on the way to the airport and never got to Washington.

During the week in Washington D.C., the students learned about the governmental system and how it functions. They attended seminars given by various governmental officials in addition to visiting the historical sites of the city. But the most memorable of all events, was the lasting friendships formed during the week.

Presidential Classroom is applied for at the end of the junior year. Applicants must have a 3.0 GPA and be interested in govenment and politics. It was a great experience for eight seniors. They were able to share their experiences and learning with Pioneers back home in sunny California!

Majestics

We sing it out for Mission High,
Majestics all unite in pride.
With joy we climb to heights with harmony,
And still we strive to reach with dignity.
Somehow we feel so free.
With Panther strength, our black and gold will shine.
We'll face the world and conquer every time.
Our aim is high, no fear we'll ever know
So high that we can almost touch eternity.
We feel so free, we feel so free.

And we do believe that '87 will be so bright.
We'll share our light.
We'll be there.
For the Pioneer Pride will lead us on to our destiny
'Cause we have a spirit that says we really care.

We sing it out for Mission High.
Majestics all unite in pride.
With joy we climb to heights with harmony,
And still we strive to reach with dignity.
Somehow we feel so free.
With Panther strength our black and gold will shine.
We'll face the world and conquer every time.
Our aim is high, no fear we'll ever know.
So high that we can almost touch eternity.
We feel so free, we feel so free.

A Final Ride On The Mission Carousel

The Majestic Panthers arrived at Mission in September 1983. Although they were unknown to the Mission family, they were readily accepted and began to develop their own identity. They began this through the selection of their mascot, the panther, their class colors, gold and black, and their class name, Majestics.

The Majestics were a unique class. They were not afraid to break old traditions and begin new ones. They did this because they felt that they had something new to offer. This was seen in their willingness to change the format of the senior-freshman activity during Welcome Week. The Majestics also recognized the beauty of old traditions and carried on the lovely tradition of the Living Rosary Assembly on October 7.

Although senior year was a hectic one, the Majestics found time for other activities besides the academics. They supported their class princess Christy Flores in the annual Ad Drive by bringing in 190% of their class quota. All Majestics attended one of the three KAIROS retreats. Again they sponsored the annual Christmas assembly, worked hard at selling candy during the November candy drive, and had bunny buddies at Easter. Senior year was a time of laughter, tears, friendships, dreams, and work. It was a year to cherish memories, a year of growth.

The Majestics were led through their senior year by a capable board and class moderators. Their class officers were: president, Christine Mullen; vice-president, Sandra Johnson; secretary, Francine Acuna; treasurer, Terri Montes de Oca; and special affairs, Maggie Prado. Class moderators were: Ms. Cathy Dorsey, Ms. Joyce Moore, Ms. Margo Smith, Sister Gloria Marie and assistant moderator, Ms. Joan Inouye.

Although the four years at Mission seemed to have passed quickly, they were filled with many memories. Each year contributed to the growth of the class of '87. Each year brought its own special joys and sorrows, but the Majestic Panthers of '87 have indeed left Mission a CAROUSEL OF MEMORIES.

Close Up On Christy Flores

Making people laugh is not easy, but it seems to come naturally to Christy. As a matter of fact, she considers making people laugh a hobby along with drawing and running.

Christy plans to take up a career in art. Perhaps in either graphic design or commercial art.

When looking at her four years at Mission, she remembers KAIROS XIII because it helped her to realize God's love for her and others. She also remembers learning how to overcome hurdles. As she puts it, "It was a hard fight, but I managed to survive the bruises and aches of defeat and become the best because of them."

Leading the Majestics as class president for three years (freshman, sophomore, and junior) has helped her to develop the gift of leadership which she also uses in sports. For the past three years, Christy has been involved in track, volleyball, and basketball.

Christy's smile and ready laugh will be missed, but the Mission Pioneer's know that whatever Christy decides to pursue in the future, she will give her best to it.

Close Up On Lenore Hernandez

Jolyne Adrienne Lucero

Always making sense of the unexplainable is a snap for Lenore. Because of this, she has been a key help in play productions at school. Lenore is also always ready to lend a helping hand to dance committees and the drama club.

Her hobbies include drawing, singing, dancing, and watching movies. Lenore laughs when she recalls the memory of dressing up as a nun along with fellow classmates Jeanne Yugar and Vanessa Coto and singing to Sister Carolyn for her feastday.

Lenore plans on attending college although at the present moment she is not sure just where. She wants to be the best at whatever she eventually does. As she looks back on her four high school years, she is thankful for a wonderful family and friends.

Who is that girl with the cute smile? It's Christine Crow star pitcher for Mission's softball team. Throughout her four years at Mission, she has been involved in G.A.A., the softball team, and is currently treasurer of the Math/Science Club.

Her hobbies include playing softball, reading, and embroidery. She is also crazy about the Monkees and the Beatles.

When looking back on her four years at Mission, her most memorable moments include locking the computer with the program in it, and an afternoon spent with her closest friends at Numero Uno and finding out there was not enough money to pay the bill!

She has had many things she is thankful for, but most especially because, "I not only have a top locker but a bottom one to. I am especially thankful for my friends."

Third Time Around

"Like a candle burning bright, so we prove that we'll prevail . . ." As upperclasswomen, the Imperial Lions of '88 walked through Mission's doors to register on August 27. Under the excellent leadership of president Leslie Diaz, vice-president Stephanie Rodriquez, secretary Monica Romo, treasurer Connie Reyes, and special affairs Angelica Sarabia, and moderators Mr. Steve Gunther, Sister Beatrice, Sister Elizabethz, Mr. Frank Laurenzello, and assistant moderator Mr. John Mulvihill, they set about to achieve a successful year.

One of the first events sponsored by the Imperials was the junior-freshman picnic on September 10. In order for the new freshmen to feel more welcome, the Lions invited their freshman little sisters for an afternoon picnic at Smith Park. The class of '88 next sponsored a funraiser selling rainbow-colored pens. The spirit of the junior class was vividly seen during this fundraiser.

As the year progressed, a very important event for spiritual growth and class unity took place — the junior retreat held at Mater Dolorosa Retreat House in Sierra Madre. Once again, the class was divided into two groups, one group on retreat October 22 and 23, and the other on January 15 and 16. The theme for both retreats was "Relationships: With themselves, others, and God".

Next, the junior dance occured on February 7, again to help finance their many class activities, especially the junior-senior Prom at the Queen Mary on May 1. Their two final activities were the junior-senior banquet on May 19 and class day.

"Believing in each other . . ." was displayed by the Imperial Lions of '88. They not only showed great unity and leadership, but also they were a class with much CLASS!

MYSTIQUES MAKE WAVES

Like a wave looming above the shore, growing as it comes closer and making its mark as it crashes, the 1986-1987 Mystique wave hit Mission High School with its strength and spirit.

This is the best way one can describe the sophomore class of 1987. With an established identity and great confidence within, the class went on to make the most of the year. The wave was a combination of both Mystique unity and Mystique guidance. The guidance being class president Kelly O'Meara, vice-president Christy Betance, secretary Mona Lisa Montes, treasurer Lisa Corona, and special affairs Elva Benitez. Backing the officers were moderators Mrs. Maribel Aicklen, Ms. Sal Carrasco, Mrs.Nancy Crowley, Sister Kathleen Anne, and auxillary moderator Mr. Gene Koester.

The Mystiques did not hesitate to show their pride and unity, for they took every chance they had to show it, especially through the activities they sponsored. Survival kits in September gave the sophomores a chance to spread their confidence to newly-annointed freshman little sisters.

The All Clubs Dance in October was not very successful in terms of money, but much effort was put into it by the class. The outcome of this event, was over looked as Mission Daze came on October 31 and brought with it a tremendous amount of participation and enthusiasm from the student body. Finally, the sophomores prepared a special lunch for their senior big sisters in May. Prior to this though a very important tradition occurred for the sophomores — the ordering and receiving of their school rings in the spring. With them came the long coveted title of "upperclasswomen".

Enthusiasm and commitment was the key in this year's Mystique class. As sophomore Arcelia Arvizu put it, "I think we were more united — we were closer. Everyone got into the spirit of things." And moderator Mrs, Maribel Aicklen added, "they were a pretty good class — very energetic." And so it was that the Mystique wave of pride, commitment, unity, and everything that was Mystique, came to an end only to start again and grow to become the wave of 1987-1988!

Mrs. Crowley and Sister Kathleen Anne share information at one of the sophomore class meetings.

In the Beginning Were . . .

The Magnifiques

A new group of freshmen feeling confused and somewhat frightened, joined the Mission family on August 29, 1986. It was the beginning of a four year journey for the class of 1990.

They were immediately welcomed by the sophomores with survival kits on September 9. The following day, September 10, they were invited to a picnic at Smith Park by the juniors.

A new experience, not only for the freshmen, but also for the school was the Senior Welcome Day on Friday, September 11. The theme for the day was "Freshmen Round-Up". Instead of the traditional invitation, the seniors treated their freshman little sisters to a breakfast, followed by an assembly, and then it was off to the beach for the rest of the day.

After much discussion, the class of 1990 chose the name Magnifiques, the stallion for their mascot and for their colors black and white.

They next chose their officers: president Pamela Yugar, vice president, Patricia Gillen, secretary Maria Stella Cintra Do Prado, treasurer Jennifer Macias, and special affairs Vanna Pecoraro. They were assisted by moderators Ms. Ethel Malveaux, Mrs. Ernestine Campbell, Mrs. Ellen Ransons, Ms. Karen Bangs, and Sister Catherine Marie.

The Magnifiques have arrived! Although they have just begun, they are already a special part of the Mission family. They look forward to what the next three years will bring them.

CLOSE UP ON MR. STEVE GUNTHER

Music plays an important part in Mr. Gunther's life. When he first came to Mission three years ago, he became involved with Music Ministry. Ever since, Mission's Eucharistic and paraliturgical celebrations have reflected the beauty that music adds.

Sophomores and juniors are challenged to look deeply into their beliefs and the world around them in his religion classes.

Mr. Gunther's openness and sincerity are appreciated by faculty and students alike. His talents and willingness to share have added a special flavor to Mission.

CLOSE UP ON SISTER LINDA

Fifty-one years in the classroom is no small accomplishment in this day and age. It is an accomplishment that has demanded both patience and a sense of humor. Both qualities are found in Sister Linda. For the past eight years, Sister Linda has been at Mission, patiently demonstrating that Math is understandable. In clear understandable examples, Sister has explained complicated equations.

Sister Linda has touched the lives of many students in her numerous years of teaching and will continue to do so with her smile, her jokes and most especially with her warm understanding heart.

CLOSE UP ON MS.ETHEL MALVEAUX

Ms. Malveaux has been teaching for eleven years, the past six here at Mission in the Business Department. Her jobs at Mission include being the head moderator for the freshman class, co-moderator of FBLA, and assistant LIFE moderator.

The thing she like about Mission the most is the positve support she receives from the administration, her co-workers, parents, and students. All of this helps to make her job more enjoyable.

Ms. Malveaux would like to increase the enrollment in business courses, and to establish a way to follow-up graduates who are utilizing their business skills gained at Mission.

Mission is grateful for the many gifts of time and talent that Ms. Malveaux gives so willingly. Thank you!

The Numbers Game

The grueling work of completing an assignment, the tense frustration of tired minds. Numbers swarming before your eyes. Does this sound familiar? Did you have a math class this last year — perhaps pre-calculus or Geometry? Then you realized the challenge and the wonder of math.

Once again the department was ably chaired by Mrs. Debra Blair. She was assisted by Ms. Sal Carrasco who taught Algebra I, Part I and Geometry. Mr. Kirk Nichols taught Math Applications and Algebra I, part I. Ms. Ethel Malveaux taught Math Essentials. Sister Linda taught two sections of Algebra I. Mr. John Mulvihill taught one section of Algebra I, three sections of Algebra II, and Computer Literacy. Mrs. Blair taught Pre-Calculus, Computer Literacy and Basic I and II. Honors classes in Algebra II and Pre-Calculus were taught by Mr. Mulvihill and Mrs. Blair respectively.

While math was a challenge for many, it was a rewarding one. As sophomore Susie Anderson commented, "I work very hard in my class, but I enjoy it and help is always available.

Future Einsteins

Just as Albert Einstein studied the theory of the universe and found that the world contained interesting and awe-inspiring facts, so did Mission Pioneers in their science classes.

The Science Department was again chaired by Ms. Joan Inouye who taught Lab Biology and health. Members of her department were: Mr. Kirk Nichols who taught Lab Procedures, Mr. Philip Corrado who taught Life Science, Lab Chemistry, and Human and Earth Ecology, and Sister Joanna who taught Health. In these various courses, students were given the opportunity not only to learn the academics of each course, but also to learn more about the use of individual pieces of equipment such as the microscope, spring balances, and various chemicals.

Science is becoming more and more important in our lives, and the Science Department strived to impart and need to be well grounded in this area. "I have a new appreciation of science," commented junior Terry Yugar.

During open House in November, Ms. Inouye explains the Science Department curriculum to interested parents.

Another look at English

Mission's English Department offered a strong four-year curriculum of literature and writing. During their four years at Mission, students writing and appreciation of literature increased.

Sister Catherine Marie, department chairperson, taught the Comprehensive English and Reading program to freshmen, as well as Themes in Literature to sophomores. Mrs. Ellen Ransons taught four sections of Elements of Literature to freshmen and one section of Themes to sophomores. Sister Kathleen Anne taught two sections of Themes and moderated the yearbook, Pioneer Publications. Sister Elizabeth taught American Literature to the juniors as well as the junior honors course. Ms. Margo Smith taught World Literature to the seniors and the senior honors course. Sister Carolyn taught the Journalism course. Debate was a zero period taught by Mr. Gene Koester.

Students graduating from Mission had a solid foundation in English and were prepared to function in a society that demands clarity in speech and writing.

A Carousel of Languages

One of the most interesting subjects to study is a foreign language. Learning to speak, read, and write a language that is new and different can be a unique and enjoyable experience. Becoming bilingual can only be beneficial in today's society.

Helping to coordinate the efforts of the Foreign Language Department were its talented members. Sister Jean Marie, department chairperson, taught French I, II, and III. Ms. Josefa Baca taught Intro Spanish and Bilingual Spanish I, III, and IV. Ms. Olga Jarel taught Spanish I, III, and IV, and Mrs. Maribel Aicklen taught Spanish III and Bilingual Spanish III.

Knowing another language helped one to appreciate the uniqueness of that country and its culture, a necessary knowledge now that travel between countries is becoming easier and much more commonplace.

Ms. Baca looks to heaven for an answer her students don't seem to have.

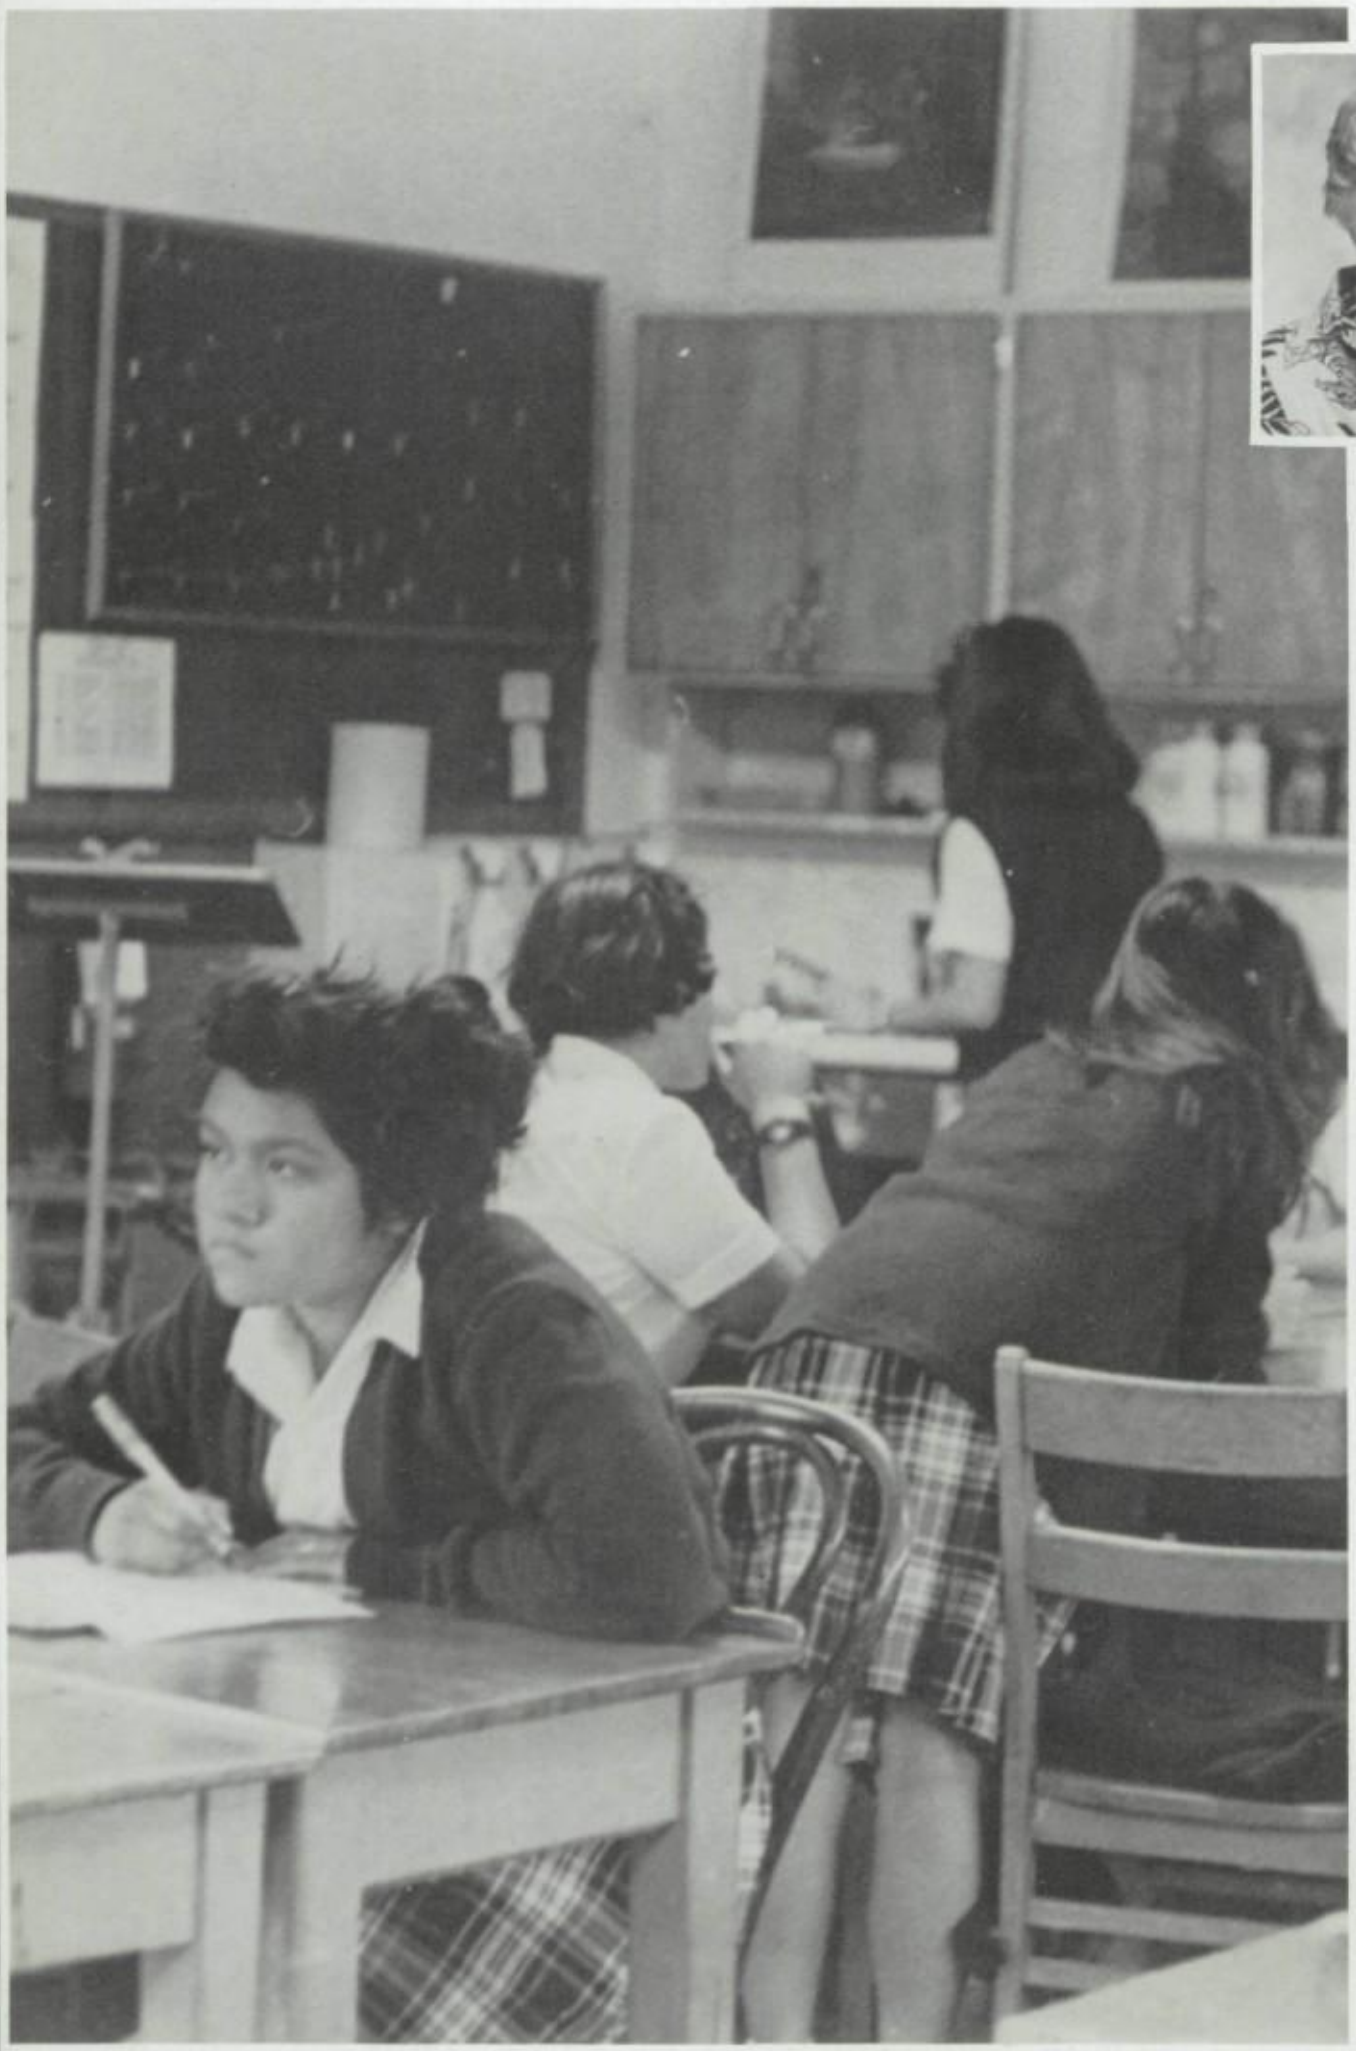
The Art of Mission



Ms. Ingersoll's photography class works hard to create Ansel Adam's masterpieces.

Ms. Marian Ingersoll smiles for the camera.

"Hey, Kiddo!" Mr. Gene Koester's favorite expression.

The tension was so thick, you could cut it with a knife. And it was no wonder. In room 214, future da Vinci's and Rembrant's were hard at work on their masterpieces. Tremendous concentration was given to the tiniest details. Who knew what genius of creativity was in their midst.

Downstairs, in room 125, young thespians improved their skills under the direction of Mr. Gene Koester. Echoes of Shakespeare were heard as students studied the art of theather and what makes it so great and challenging.

The scenarios just described were common ones in the Fine Arts Department this year. Girls in Drama I, Drama II, Art Fundamentals, Illustration, Drawing and Painting, Design Crafts, Calligraphy, and Commercial Art Techniques worked their hardest to develop their creative skills. Drama students learned the methods and techniques involved in becoming a good actor. Art students learned the technical aspects of art in addition to an appreciation of art history. They were encouraged to appreciate beauty in all forms of art.

Credit for this colorful and creative aspect of Mission goes to Mrs. Marian Ingersoll, department chairperson and Mr. Gene Koester. When asked about her goals for this year, Mrs. Ingersoll responded, "I want the girls to realize that art is so much more than the quick 'Friday afternoon' art projects they did in grammar school — it's also art history, art appreciation, and learning to make aesthetic judgements."

Future Homemakers of America?

On any given day at Mission, girls could be seen walking down the sophomore hall, taking deep breaths, and saying, "Oooh, what smells so delicious?" It wasn't the lunch truck they were talking about. No, the people responsible for these mouth-watering aromas were students in Sister Kathleen Anne's Introduction to Foods class.

Introduction to Foods wasn't the only class in the Home Arts Department. Two other courses were also offered: Sewing — beginning, intermediate, advanced and Child Development. Mrs. Nancy Crowley was always available to help rip out crooked seams, while Ms. Joyce Moore guided eggs and girls through Child Development.

Mrs. Crowley, chairperson of the department, commented, "It is my hope that these courses will be of practical and valuable assistance in the future." As junior Terry Yugar commented also, "It was great to learn something practical and still have lots of fun."

Seniors Stephanie Bazurto and Stella Lopez create cozy works of art.

Mrs. Nancy Crowley's famous smile is captured for all time.

Sister Kathleen Anne's dazzling smile is very impressive.

Faith Sharing

Achieving a sense of community and inspiring students to recognize the importance of one another were some of the goals set by the Religion Department. These hard-working teachers included Sister Gloria Marie, department chairperson, Mr. Steve Gunther, Sister Beatrice, Mrs. Nancy Crowley, Sister Kathleen Anne, and Ms. Karen Bangs. Together, they encouraged students to grow in their faith and in their relationship with God.

Living the Gospel rather than just reading it was an important challenge. Campus Ministry programs such as retreats and Christian Service requirements helped in achieving this goal. Junior Nancy Lopez commented, "People usually expect others to spread the Gospel. However, religion has helped me to realize that we cannot rely on others to constantly do this job since the task must begin with ourselves."

Being a religion teacher was often as arduous yet rewarding job. It was sometimes difficult to relate a concept to modern society and culture because so much in today's society-conflicts with Christian values. Sister Gloria Marie stated, "I enjoy watching students learning and growing in their faith while sharing and encouraging others through difficult times."

Journey through the Time Barrier

Being as dark as ebony, the forest was filled with only the eerie noises of the wild, ferocious animals. The tall, lean soldier tried to muster all the courage he had left, but it was to no avail. He had utilized all his energy preparing for the battle and now only his military training was his guide. The frail, young lad cautiously stalked about the woods, not knowing his enemy, until he sudently turned to find a stranger looking at him down the barrel of a rifle.

Did this excerpt sound familiar? Perhaps it was one of the few historical war accounts that Mission students were taught from their Social Studies teachers. These dedicated faculty members included Mr. Frank Laurenzello, Ms. Cathy Dorsey, Mr. Gene Koester, and Ms. Joyce Moore, department chairperson. When asked about her personal goals for this year, Ms. Moore stated that she "hopes to encourage fellow faculty to incorporate skill developments within their class lectures."

Social Studies' instructors motivated pupils to learn the perspective of not only who they were but also what the could do for the future. Acknowledging information from the past helped students to perceive the different lifestyles and how these customs have affected people through the years. Junior Emma La Crue commented, "Although I previously had a negative outlook of this subject, I now have a better understanding of how beneficial Social Studies is to modern society."

Getting Down to Business

Ms. Malveaux and Mrs. Campbell talk business.

The clickity clack of typewriters and the scratching of pencils on steno pads were just some of the sounds which came from Mission's Business Department. Yet, they did not come out as loud as returning chairperson Mrs. Ernestine Campbell and fellow member Ms. Ethel Malveaux would have liked.

The Business Department offered Business Typing, Personal Typing, Business Management, Administrative Procedures, Shorthand I, Accounting, and Consumer Econcomics. A new course, Rapid Writing, a different system of shorthand was added. Unfortunately, enrollment in the courses have dropped since 1978. Mrs. Campbell commented, "It hurts you to watch the drop because students need skills."

Despite these difficulties, the Business Department was as strong as ever in their determination in impart skills for success in the business world. Students worked long and hard to perfect skills.

Not Just Horsin' Around!

PE students demonstrate their basketball abilities.

Who was that leaping around Mission's field? Was it a bird? Was it a plane? No, it was Sister Joanna.

Sister Joanna Carranza, frequently seen in a white veil and culotts, became a welcomed addition to the Mission family as the chairperson and instructor of the Physcial Education Department. She said her biggest challenge was "convincing the girls that fitness and movement is good for them."

The curriculum for PE included volleyball, basketball, soccer, softball, conditioning, badmintion, flag football, and archery. "I try to instill positive reinforcement and recognize the girl's performance in PE," replied Sister Joanna, She also said that her goal was to give her enthusiasm for fitness to the students of Mission.

"Developing the whole person" was the Physical Education Department's goal. With the help of Sister Joanna and the cooperation of her students, they strived to achieve that goal.

Dribbling is easy as pie.

Don't you wonder exactly what Sister Joanna is writing?

A Corner on Books

Sitting on a shelf, I saw everyone who came to visit the library this past year. It was a very exciting place to be because of the many activities that happened here.

The first and most important activity was learning since the library was a place of information along with other books like me. The library was also used for relaxation, a place to study, to be alone, or to have meetings.

Mrs. Diane Williams, school librarian, constantly sought to expand the library contents by buying a variety of books thus making sure that up-to-date materials were available for student use.

Mrs. Williams with her love for her work, was readily available to students who were in need of assistance. Because she also enjoyed relating to the students, her companionship was enjoyed and accepted by many.

Mrs. Williams commented, "I would like the library to be a place where people can be comfortable and enjoy visiting.

Mrs. Williams poses in front of her favorite things in life — books!

Seniors Claudia Moreno and Emma Nava check out the movies in the daily paper.

Around the Clock Advice

The structure of the Counseling Department underwent a change with the departure of Sister Jeanne last summer. Six new members added their wisdom and experience to the counseling department.

These new members were: Mrs. Debra Blair, curriculum coordinator, Mr. Joyce Moore, scholarship advisor, Mr. George Flores, college counselor, Sister Linda, Registrat, Mrs. Jean Nash, report cards and attendance, and Sister Marcellina, administrative assistant. These new members worked in conjunction with Sister Mary Hilary, personal counselor and department chairperson.

Another change in the department was the advisement program. This year the freshmen were given not only a faculty member as an advisor, but also had an assigned peer counselor. The sophomores, juniors, and seniors were able to request a meeting with a faculty member of their choice, but they were not assigned to a specific advisor. The sophomores also received college counseling from Mr. Flores.

The Counseling Department was able to serve students in a variety of ways, from academic counseling to personal. As senior Eileen Gillen commented, "It's always a good feeling to know that there is someone I can turn to in time of need."

"I think this year's squad is one of the best squads Mission has ever seen, and we are doing our best to prove this," stated senior Michelle Lara.

This year's 1986-1987 pep squad performed and cheered at all sports events, sponsored rallies and supported Mission activities. Under the moderatorship of Mrs. Maribel Aicklen, the varsity song and cheer members worked extremely hard. The varsity song members were: senior Denise Duran, junior Emma Le Crue, and junior Karen Traulsen. Junior varisty members were: sophomore Kathy Soto, and sophomore Patricia Romo. Varsity cheer members were: senior Michelle Lara, junior Julie Almanzan, senior Ana Gomez, and sophomore Julie Flores. Junior varsity members were: junior Jackie Ponce, sophomore Lisa Corona, and sophomore Tanya Ybarra.

To prepare for the year, they attended a USA cheerleading camp at San Diego University during the summer. There, they learned different routines and competed against other cheer and song leaders.

Song and Cheer's enthusiasm and spirit were evident through out the year not only at games, but also at school.

Why would anyone spend one-third of their glorious summer running in the dehydrating heat of the sun? Personally, as a pair of cute tennies, I have often asked myself that question. Especially last summer, while I "burned rubber" with my owner.

First year coach, Mr. Kirk Nichols, coached the young, inexperienced team. Everyday the team progressed with the help of team captain, freshman Janice Garcia. Most of the members of the cross-coutnry team were non-runners, but they did well considering they were competing against the fastest feet in the state. Mission ran independently at invitations and dual meets. They were held at the Rose Bowl, Oceanside, Yucapia, and Riverside.

Next year's team will be looking forward to a better season. Team members for the 1986 season were: sophomore Olivia Trevino, junior Angelica Sarabia, junior Elsa Islas, junior Veronica Rodriquez, junior Helen Trevino, freshman Renee Carlos, sophomore Cindy Islas, freshman Cindy Najera, junior Erica Cuellar, and junior Monica Romo. Monica also turned in the fastest time for the team at Oceanside with a 21.14 in the 2.6 mile run.

I don't know about all the other pairs of tennis shoes, but I am excited about next year. Let's burn that rubber! GO MHS!

Erica, Janice, Elsa, and Veronica trot their tennies.

Stretching before running is a necessity.

Mr. Nichols frequently offers his guidance.

Aiming High!

Who was that making an excellent kill? Who served up a winner? Why, it was the 1986 Varsity Volleyball team!

High hopes were with the volleyball team as they began their season in September under the expert coaching of Ms. Joan Inouye. The team played twleve games, as well as participating in the Bassett Tournament.

The team members for this year were seniors: Barbara Alvarez, Christy Flores, Cindy Gabaldon, Jolyne Lucero, Terri Montes de Oca, Cecy Mungaray, Rosemary Rascon, Michelle Sterling, juniors: Stephanie Rodriguez, and sophomores: Veronica Cagiagas, Monica Carrillo, and Bede Hermosillo.

Ms. Inouye felt that the year was "frustrating", but she was looking forward to next season and working with experienced players. Although the team did not have many victories, they showed great pride and spirit in their efforts.

It's All in the Name of Fun!

Although it wasn't a winning year in the usual sense, when it came to team spirit and unity, the team members definitely had a winning year.

"The team respected and cared for one another. Despite their losses, they had a good time playing," stated coach Sister Joanna. "One of the JV's weaknesses was having a lack of experience, and having to start with the basic fundamentals," she continued. "Each game was difficult. We had to work for every point; nothing came easily." Sister Joanna worked on the team's skills, stressing discipline, hard work, consistency, motivation, spirit, and communication.

The highlight of the season was when the team defeated Ramona Convent and Sacred Heart of Jesus. The coach said the hardest game was their last game against Sacred Heart of Jesus because the girls were still on a high from their victory over Ramona. It was hard for the girls to concentrate and be motivated.

The team consisted of junior Patsy Audelo, co-captain; five sophomores: Christy Betance co-captain, Arceli Arvizu, Elva Benitez, Patricia Pespisa, Gaby Sanchez, and four freshmen: Lori Agredano, Stella Cintra do Prado, Vanna Pecoraro, and Terri Rascon.

While the team had more than their share of losses, their team spirit and energy prevailed.

A NEW BEGINNING!

This year was a new beginning for the 1986-'87 Varsity Basketball team. The team was comprised of many new players including some new freshmen. The team also had a new coach, Sister Joanna and assistant coach, Ms. Joan Inouye.

On the team this year were seniors Michelle Sterling, Mandy Torres, Danielle Montoya, juniors Charmaine Soller, Patsy Aduelo, Stephanie Rodriquez, sophomores Patricia Pespisa, Monica Carrillo, Bede Hermosillo, and freshmen Rose Newell and Isela Ponce.

The team put in many hours of hard work. Sister Joanna commented, "A rash of injuries caused me to change my strategy and to play more inexperienced players. Even though the team was hit by injuries and inexperience, and did not have a winning season, they learned many new things and played with heart."

Sophomore Patricia Pespisa shoots the ball to gain an edge over Flintridge.

Sophomores Bede Hermosillo and Monica Carrillo play keep away.

Junior Patricia Aduelo has a show down with an Alverno player for the possession.

Senior Mandy Torres is a formidable player.

Sophomore Monica Carrillo fights on to score with the not so willing help of number 21, senior Danielle Montoya.

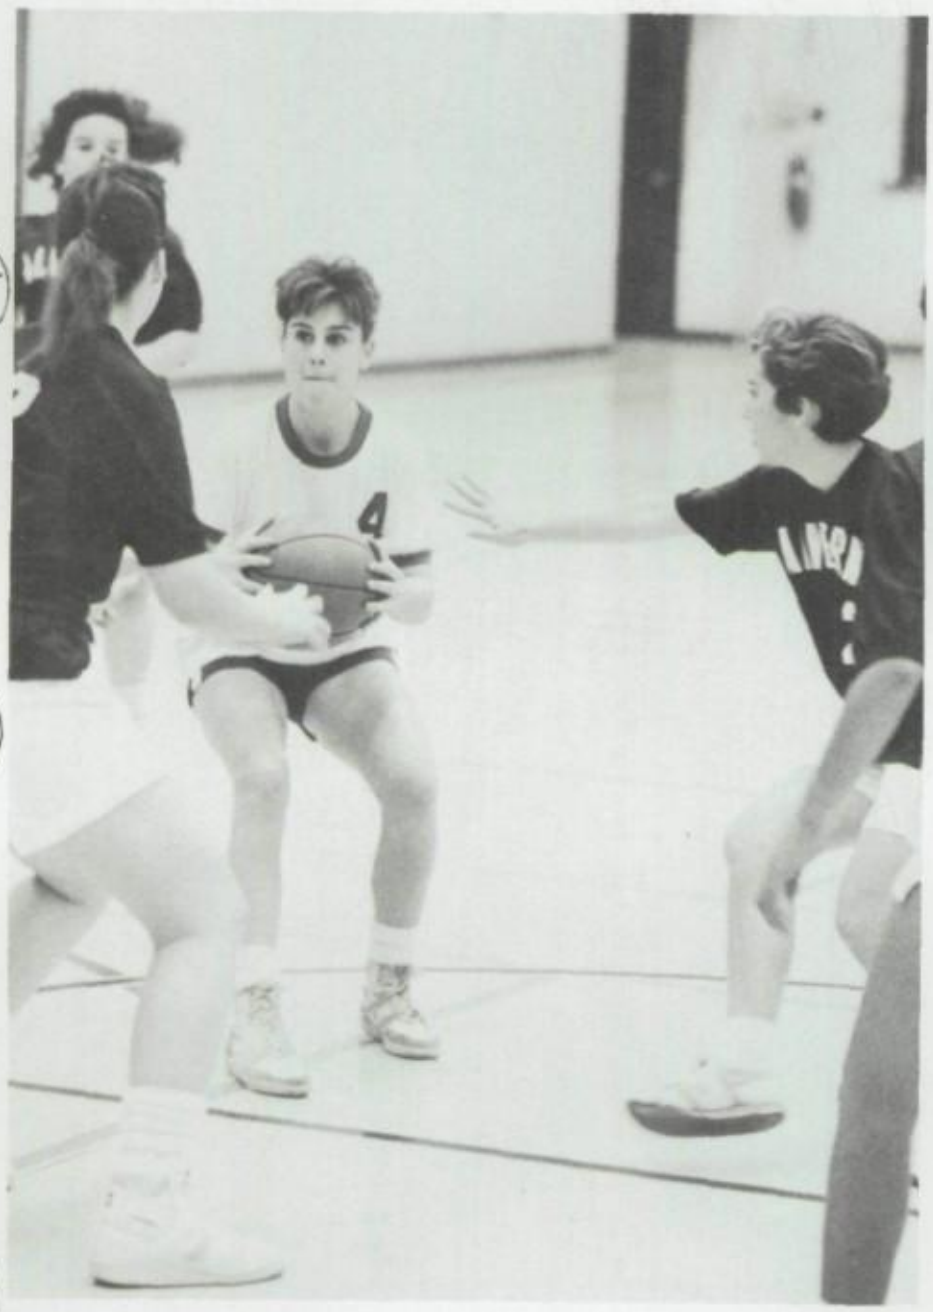
Mission's Trotters

And they're off! Running down that court. Swerving, diving, leaping, and jumping! Yes, you guessed it. We're at one of Mission's J.V. Basketball games!

This year's team was comprised of many new players, including a new coach, Mr. Kirk Nichols. The team practiced many long hours in order to be ready for the season, and they were! The 1986-'87 J.V. Basketball team was made up of three juniors Lori Laitinen, Lucy Rosas, and Pilar Salazar, sophomores Alice Ramirez,and Nancy Rojas and five freshmen: Jing Aquino, Stella Cintro do Prado, Jennifer Claridge, Alicia Leon,and Anh Phan.

Junior Lori Laitinen comomented, "We are a good team, but we are lacking in experience." Although there were not many victories, the team enjoyed the season and felt it was a learning experience.



Freshman Stella Cintra do Prado seems to be surrounded by opponents.

Freshman Anh Phan shoots another basket for an extra point.

SO LONG, FAREWELL . . .

IT'S HARD TO SAY GOODBYE!

As I reflect back on the beginnings of this book, I realize just how fast time passes. What first started as a concept, has materialized into a book of memories. What I believe to be an important part of this book is the hardwork of the staff. Their teamwork was no less then spectacular.

My deepest thanks goes to my co-editor Lori Laitinen. Without her, sections of the '87 Pioneer would never have been done. Thanks also to business managers Emma Nava, Lydia Martinez, and Myrna Gonzalez who spent countless hours keeping tack of the money from the ad Drive. Thanks also to copy editors Tessie Anderson and Terry Yugar for proof-reading hundreds of pages of body copy. And Monica Mojica, how can I thank you for the beautiful artwork that makes A CAROUSEL OF MEMORIES so memorable? Thank you!!

Claudia Moreno as Index Editor did a wonderful job. But without the following, the book simply wouldn't be. Special thanks to the hardworking staff writers: Patricia Avila, Norma Masse, Connie Reyes, Veronica Cagigas, Cristina Riegos, Patricia Trujillo, Cynthia Lomas, and Sandra Deming. Along with them, were our dedicated typists Maria Palacio and Angie Guzman.

Last, but not least, my thanks to the photographers Griselda Salcedo, Teresa Alvarez, Tina Flores, and Evelyn Vega. Your pictures were beautiful! Two other people deserve special mention — Sister Kathleen Anne, yearbook moderator, and Mr. John Blair, photography coordinator. Without your patience and help nothing would have happened. Thank you! Finally, I would like to thank Alfred And Fabris, Photographers, who supplied the film and developed the colored pictures and Mr. Jeff Rasmussen who was always there to lend a helping hand.

The '87 Pioneer could not have happened without the help of all those students who sold their ad and in the famous words of Bartyles and James, "thank you for your support."

While I am on the subject of thank you, I would love to thank my mom, dad, aunt, grandmother, Mike,l Mike Jr., Georgie, Vivi, and the rest of my family. Also my friends, Mary, Melissa, Christ C. Jeanne, Sandy, Chris B., and Lenore. Special thanks to Mrs. Salazar, S. Beatrice, and Leticia R. Thank you for all your help. I better stop this since it is beginning to sound like an academy award acceptance speech.

If you've managed to stay awake throughout all the thank-you's, you will have noticed that the yearbook is a team effort, and this year's staff was a great team. I wish next year's staff the very best of luck and creativity. May you enjoy the pleasures of producing a book such as A CAROUSEL OF MEMORIES. Happy reading!

Love,

M. Vanessa Soto
